

ISI

WHO WE ARE

ISI rose from the takeover and subsequent shutdown of Yorklite Electronics in 2000. Bob Ferguson, the top salesman and inverter technician expert for Yorklite seized the opportunity to show the market something it wasn't used to.

That "something" was the most efficient, feature-packed system on the market, with customer service, support, consultation, and attention to detail.

ISI had a mission to not be just another emergency lighting company selling the same equipment and passing all the customer relations up to the manufacturer.

ISI has set themselves apart from the competition. Their appreciation of their customers has afforded them a devoted, loyal list of national accounts.
